

Infor State Government

Infor Public Sector solutions help states meet future demands within the limits of today's budget constraints

Satisfy increasing calls for better service, faster answers, and more transparency, and keep citizens satisfied.

How successful states build for the future

State governments may be entering the most difficult decades in history. Skyrocketing financial obligations are compounding escalating demands for new services, just as the most experienced employees are hitting retirement age. The foundations that leaders build today for effectively managing state resources, including people, money, and property, could affect residents' quality of life for a generation or more. This could be the last chance many states get to implement technologies to cope with unprecedented challenges.

Join an experienced partner

Infor® Public Sector solutions help government agencies around the world improve performance, serve citizens better, and reduce costs. With decades of work in both public and private sector problem solving, Infor has experience solving the toughest challenges state governments face.

With a comprehensive selection of enterprise software products supported by innovative Infor ION™ technology, Infor software can be a surprisingly effective tool for streamlining the way you manage your state government agency. Between our wide assortment of best-of-breed solutions and the advanced user experience and analytics of our innovative Infor 10x integration technology, you can feel confident that partnering with Infor will lead to better results and lower costs.

Pick focused solutions

Between flat budgets and a retiring workforce, state decision makers face limited choices. With the help of Infor Public Sector solutions, you can feel confident that any new program or initiative can deliver clear, measurable value because you'll have ready access to enough information to support sound decision-making and evaluate results.

You'll also be positioned to gain maximum value from state resources with complete, up-to-date information that helps you:

- Improve human capital-In the next five years, much of your institutional knowledge will disappear, as a large percentage of your workers in the Baby Boom generation retire. You'll soon need to recruit, train, and retain a new generation of workers. You can make your workforce management process more consistent and efficient with the help of Infor human capital management (HCM) solutions, so that you have an orderly, efficient, and fair process for building the workforce of the future. You'll also have sophisticated tools for assigning qualified personnel in the most efficient and economical way. Infor HCM solutions offer unmatched capabilities for managing succession planning, recruitment, selection, training, and employee benefits. They also bring you the workforce management and talent management capabilities you need to administer complex labor environments, particularly those involving civil service rules and union contracts.
- Clarify business intelligence with advanced analytics-Position yourself to make better decisions and help your elected officials understand important issues with analytics solutions from Infor. Prebuilt dashboards, customizable performance indicators, and built-in integrations with your financial and operational systems, make it easier to get information quickly to the people who need it most.
- Strengthen financial management-You can create a solid, secure financial management process with the help of Infor Public Sector financial solutions. Some of the world's largest and most complex public sector organizations trust Infor financial solutions to handle their biggest challenges, including budgeting, payroll, ledgers, receivables, and payables.
- Reduce risk-Prevent fraud, abuse, and waste while reducing risk with Infor Risk and Compliance (Approva). By automatically enforcing appropriate business rules with streamlined auditing, compliance can become second nature throughout your organization.

Infor State Government solutions help you to:

- Simplify the business of managing government.
 - Address citizen concerns sooner.
 - Get bills posted and paid faster.
 - Improve officials' understanding of issues.
 - Improve planning and reporting.
 - Maximize revenue and capital investments.
- Streamline reporting-You can reduce the time and effort you put into assembling reports and studies with the help of Infor reporting solutions. By integrating reporting technology into your administrative and financial systems, Infor software frees you to focus on strategy, rather than weighing you down with administrative details.
 - Control procurement-Infor procurement solutions give you clarity over your supply process so that you can maximize your operational spending and make sure that the services and materials you need are purchased at the best price, in compliance with procurement policies and rules. You'll also have confidence that you'll stock all items where you need them, account for them accurately, and replenish them promptly.
 - Extend asset life-You can improve the performance of your equipment, facilities, buildings, and fleet while reducing operating costs with Infor enterprise asset management (EAM) solutions. Leading governments and organizations around the world use Infor EAM solutions to get more value and longer service life from their capital assets, including everything from buses and heavy equipment, to building systems, highways, rail systems, system components, and critical parts.

- Get mobile-You can serve a much larger geographic area more economically by taking advantage of mobile technologies that nearly anyone can access on a tablet or smartphone. You can also empower citizens to take full partnership in the services you provide with mobile and web-based citizen access features powered by Infor solutions. Some experts predict that mobile devices will soon replace most desktop PCs-all the more reason to mobile-enable your state information infrastructure.
- Take advantage of cloud deployment-Cloud technology has matured to the point that even the most security-conscious and performance minded agencies rely on it to deliver convenient, highly available solutions. Infor solutions offer you the widest possible range of deployment options, allowing you to run your solutions in the cloud or on premise-as your needs require. Because you can purchase cloud solutions on a monthly basis, according to how much you use, with no upfront capital expenditure, many public sector agencies find cloud solutions surprisingly affordable.

Infor Public Sector solutions help government agencies around the world improve performance, serve citizens better, and reduce costs.
